CHRISTIAN SCHWALLER

Born 1979 in Bern - Switzerland. After his art studies in Basel and Lucerne he has been working as a 3d-modeling and concept/storyboard artist. Today he lives and works in the area of Zürich. He follows his own research creating sculptures and pictures with a strong connection to digital 3d art. He is also doing commission-based work and gives lectures in 3d modeling at the University of Design and Arts in Lucern.

METHOD & INSPIRATION

The work displayed here is an interaction between drawing, sculpting and 3d computer-generated images and forms. Working in the virtual 3d space reflects back into creating in real world. I am interested in forms and structures defined by various influences from natural science, a mix between classic sculptures and machineworld but also comic and game art. Currently my focus is on researching virtual made forms and transporting them into objects and sculptures.
